ROUTES DU BONHEUR On the way of St. James, shared pleasures

From Mercuès to Magescq, from the vineyards of Cahors to the immense Landes pine forest, this trip is a compendium of small pleasures. You can do it any way you like: on foot, by donkey, or in a car; regardless, you'll get an unexpected glimpse of the rich landscapes of the Southwest. Here, you will discover caves with prehistoric paintings, abbeys listed as historic monuments, and colorful arenas. The final stop on this route--which continues to Santiago de Compostela (Spain)--is the Basque coast, with its waves and festive spirit!

Château de Mercuès

Hotel and restaurant in a vineyard. Staying in this 13th century château overlooking the Lot valley is a truly unique experience, an authentic immersion in the history of France during the Middle Ages. Built on a rocky promontory, this was the summer residence of the Counts and Bishops of Cahors for seven centuries. Today, the chef draws his inspiration from local producers, and has won an international reputation for working wonders with black Lalbenque truffles and Quercy lamb. The wine list includes the great Malbec wines and vintages produced in the château's very own wine cellars, because before being the owner, Bertrand-Gabriel Vigouroux was the wine grower.

A small country palace, on the borders of the Landes and Béarn regions, a romantic haven, a feast for the senses, for pampering your body and letting your mind wander. This family home is an invitation to happiness. Fairytale gardens, aristocratic abode and symphonic cuisine. In this small village, once placed under the patronage of Empress Eugénie, herb gardens, majestic trees and ancient roses line the pathway to a stunning spa, La Ferme Thermale®. Relais de la Poste

Restaurant and hotel in a village. This 19th century mansion combines all that is great about the southwest of France and the Landes, the country of dunes and wide open spaces. The scent of the sea pines drifts over those relaxing by the swimming pool or on the white sandy beaches, only a few kilometres from the Relais de la Poste, or those surfing the famous waves of the Landes coast. Chef Jean Coussau concocts with great talent flavorful gourmet recipes originating from the region between the Basque Country and Bordeaux, with its wealth of exceptional products, like Adour lamprey, hot duck foie gras with grapes, sand asparagus from the Landes or Gillardeau oysters on a bed of chanterelles.
