

ROUTES DU BONHEUR Japan, on Honshu Island

Musician and composer Ryuichi Sakamoto is a key figure in the world of Japanese music and cinema. Sakamoto is best known to the general public for his appearances alongside David Bowie in the Furyo films and in Bernardo Bertolucci's The Last Emperor, for which he also composed the Oscar-winning soundtrack. This pianist by trade has created a universe ranging from electronic music to the traditional Okinawa songs, with collaborations with artists like Iggy Pop and Caetano Veloso in between. Born in Tokyo in 1952, he lived in the Japanese capital for thirty nine years before flying off to New York. Deeply affected by the 2011 tsunami and its aftermath, he campaigns for a nuclear-free world. This Route du Bonheur follows his journey through the traditions of Japan.

3 IZU-SHI, SHIZUOKA-KEN — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Asaba

Hotel and restaurant in a village. It is said that the great teacher of Japanese Buddhism, Kobo Daishi, bathed every morning in the river Katsura and emerged purified. A few minutes from this river, the hotel Asaba submerges you in the Japan of legends: traditional “Noh” theatre performed by the riverside. After a game of golf in picturesque surroundings, leave your kimono behind and enjoy the pleasures of an open-air bath filled with spring water. The restaurant serves traditional dishes with delightful combinations of sweet and savoury flavours. In the lounge, relax in a chair designed by famous Italian-American Harry Bertoia and in the garden, be inspired by the sweet fragrances of nature.

Hikariya-Nishi

Restaurant in town. The black and white Namako (traditional lattice) on the lower wall and the heavy vault doors and windows evoke the past of the building. This ancient “Kura”, a Japanese traditional storehouse, dates back to the 19th century and has been converted into a restaurant in 2007. In this peaceful place, minutes away from the Matsumoto castle, Chef Masahiro Tanabe, who has worked many years in acclaimed restaurants in Europe, prepares refined “natural French cuisine”. Passionate about the quality of ingredients, he travels across Nagano prefecture meeting farmers to select the freshest vegetables and products, such as Shinshu beef or Shinshu salmon, he will reveal at their best in his dishes.

5 MINAKAMI — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Bettei Senjuan

Hotel and restaurant in a park. Every room at Bettei Senjuan looks out on Mount Tanigawa, with its snow-capped peaks and the cherry blossom trees at its base that turn the landscape a beautiful pink in spring. Take the time to discover the hot spring baths in the rooms, the gardens and the tranquil wellness . Floor to ceiling windows frame the views of unspoilt nature and allow natural light to fill the zen-inspired interior, where modern design meets the art of Kumiko wood joinery and original calligraphy. The impressively presented traditional food with a contemporary twist is also influenced by the hot springs for which the region is famous.

6 UTSUNOMIYA

(1 property available)

Otowa restaurant

Restaurant in town. Chef Kazunori Otowa has dedicated his work to French cuisine, and opened his restaurant in his hometown, the vibrant city of Utsunomiya, after gaining experience in Europe and alongside acclaimed chef Alain Chapel. Beautifully presented and composed as sophisticated works of art, his dishes focus on seasonal and locally sourced ingredients such as Tochigi Wagyu beef, Yashio-Masu (local trout), eel, cheese from Nasu Highland or Asian pears. Balancing the French influence in the cuisine, the decor of the restaurant pays tribute to the regional heritage, using Oya stone and Mashiko pottery mixed with antiques, sculptures and iron art collected by Kazunori Otowa over the years.
